Live Chat

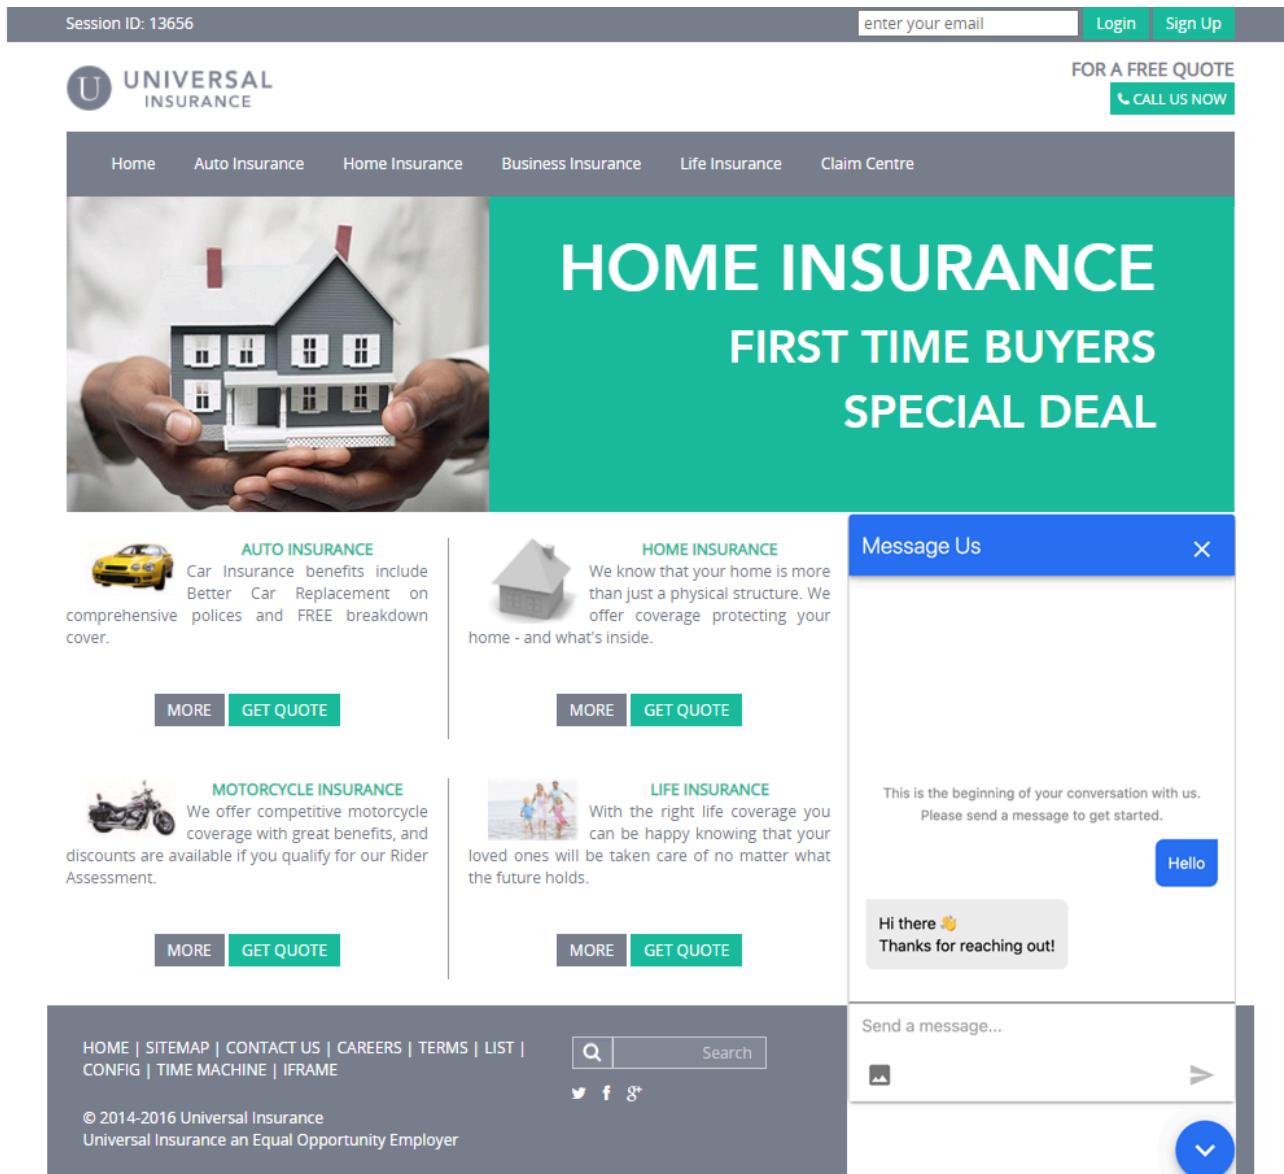

Hi there, can we help with your quote ?

Powered by  GENESYS

A web chat provides single-session chat capabilities to your website visitors through a chat window. The chat window can appear when a visitor takes a specific action that prompts a chat offer, such as requesting a quote, or clicks an option to start a chat interaction. If the visitor accepts the chat offer or starts a chat interaction, Genesys Predictive Engagement routes the interaction to an agent queue.

How Messenger appears

The screenshot shows the Universal Insurance website with a chat window overlay. The top navigation bar includes 'Session ID: 13656', 'enter your email', 'Login', and 'Sign Up'. The main menu has links for Home, Auto Insurance, Home Insurance, Business Insurance, Life Insurance, and Claim Centre. A large image of a person holding a model house is on the left. The central area features a teal banner for 'HOME INSURANCE FIRST TIME BUYERS SPECIAL DEAL'. Below the banner are four insurance categories: Auto Insurance, Home Insurance, Motorcycle Insurance, and Life Insurance, each with a 'MORE' and 'GET QUOTE' button. The bottom footer contains links for Home, Sitemap, Contact Us, Careers, Terms, List, Config, Time Machine, and Iframe, along with a search bar and social media links. A 'Message Us' chat window is open on the right, showing a message from the user 'Hi there 😊' and a response from the company 'Hello'.

If you are a Genesys Cloud CX customer, your organization might be using the new web messaging feature instead of web chat.

Web messaging provides asynchronous conversation capabilities to your website visitors through a Messenger window. For example, visitors can message you, leave your website, and return later to pick up the conversation where they left off. The Messenger window can appear when a visitor takes a specific action that prompts a messaging offer, such as requesting a quote, or clicks an option to start a messaging interaction. If the visitor accepts the messaging offer or starts a messaging interaction, Genesys Predictive Engagement routes the interaction to an agent queue.

A content offer engages visitors on your website and encourages them to take a pre-defined action. A content offer can appear when a visitor takes a specific action, such as reviewing mortgage rates. If the visitor clicks the content offer, Genesys Predictive Engagement takes whatever action an administrator configured for the offer. For example, display a mortgage application.
