Use the Exception Totals view to see the sum of the duration (total hours) for a selected Exception type over a selected date range. You do not define exceptions in this view, but only filter the display. To add an exception, see Adding exceptions to your schedule.

Viewing total hours for exceptions

The image shows two screenshots of the 'Exception Totals' interface. The top screenshot shows the initial state with annotations: 1. 'Select Exception type.' pointing to the 'Budget-1' dropdown menu. 2. 'Enter date range.' pointing to the 'Start date' and 'End date' fields, which both show 'Nov 30, 2016'. 3. 'Click "Show".' pointing to the 'Show' button. The bottom screenshot shows the results after clicking 'Show': 4. 'Exception's total hours is displayed.' pointing to a table with the following data:

Selected exception:	Budget-1
Selected period:	11/21/16 - 11/30/16
Totals:	04:01

To view total hours for an exception:

1. In the Exceptions field, select an exception type from the drop-down list.
2. In the Start Date and End Date fields, enter a date range or select one from the pop-up calendar.
3. Click Show.
Total hours are displayed, along with the selected Exception type and selected date range.
